Common Core as well as other state and federal standards initiatives create opportunities on the political front as well.

TLCI 848. Inquiry and Research in School Librarianship. 3 Credits.
This course will examine current research in the school library field and provide students with the skills they need to use existing research data for evidence-based practice. The process of conducting action research and traditional research will be reviewed in the context of the school library field. Students will practice interpreting data and applying their interpretations to solving problems for program improvement. A research proposal for an action research project will be prepared that meets the requirements of the Institutional Review Board (IRB) process. Prerequisites: TLCI 845, TLCI 846 and TLCI 847.

TLCI - Teaching & Learning - Curriculum & Instruction 2
TLCI 868. Internship: Early Childhood. 3 Credits.
Independent research study allows the student to explore a topic of interest under the close supervision of a faculty member. The coursework may include directed readings, applied independent investigations - collaboration with a faculty member with a research project or carrying out an independent research project - and other activities deemed appropriate including grant proposal writing or programmatic evaluation work. Regardless of the nature of the experience, the work must culminate in a formal paper suitable for inclusion in a published research manuscript.

TLCI 875. Pedagogy of Teacher Education. 3 Credits.
An examination of the theoretical and practical foundations of an effective pedagogy of teacher education. The course will emphasize practitioner inquiry, such as self-study, action research, and teacher research, as a methodological approach to understanding and developing a pedagogy of teacher education.

TLCI 876. Grant Writing. 3 Credits.
This course provides students with an applied introduction to proposal and grant writing. Doctoral students who successfully complete the course will be prepared to seek external funding to support their continuing graduate studies and to support their future success as academics.
