Master of Science in Education, Elementary Education, Licensed Teachers

145 Education Building
757-683-3284

Charlene Fleener, Graduate Program Director (Campus-based Option)
Robert Lucking, Graduate Program Director (Field-based Option)

The Master of Science in Education Elementary Education program for licensed teachers is designed for those who wish to enter a degree program that will enhance and enrich their teaching expertise for becoming master teachers. Two emphasis areas are offered, campus-based and field-based. The campus-based option is a traditional ODU main campus offering. The program of study includes research and a selection of graduate courses that complement the current and/or desired professional focus of the candidate. The field-based option offers licensed teachers and other professional educators the opportunity to earn a master’s degree at one of several on-site school locations throughout the Commonwealth. Registration is restricted to licensed educators at the designated public or independent schools. Classes typically are held within the community, and research and instruction is focused on each school’s curriculum, student body, and instructional offerings. While the degree programs and requirements mirror on-campus programs, minor curricular variations may occur. Non-degree students intending to enter this graduate program must meet with the graduate program director upon completion of no more than six graduate credits. Licensed teachers seeking an elementary education masters degree with a concentration in Library Science should see the School Librarianship K-12 section for complete program information. Licensed teachers seeking an elementary education masters degree (K-8) with a Mathematics Specialist concentration should see that section in the Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics, and Professional Studies (STEMPS) Department.

The graduate program associated with this major is intended to meet the needs of the individual student. Program options are designed to accomplish three primary goals:

1. to enhance classroom instruction by enriching the knowledge and skills of practicing teachers;
2. to train and encourage classroom teachers to conduct in-school research so that significant findings in the learning-teaching process can be applied to the classroom situation; and
3. to permit teachers to upgrade their teaching credentials to the Postgraduate Professional License level.

Curricula for the program include specific courses in teaching in most of the major content areas: mathematics, science, social studies, and language arts. Each individualized program has three component areas:

1. core,
2. support; and
3. research.

The research component may have up to three options (thesis, problem paper, or seminar) as indicated.

Admission

Students must:

1. hold a bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited college/university;
2. hold at least the Virginia Collegiate Professional License or an equivalent license from another state for elementary or middle school education;
3. have a general undergraduate grade point average of at least 2.80;
4. take and receive satisfactory scores on either the Graduate Record Examination or Miller Analogies Test;
5. have an interview with the graduate program director; and
6. apply for admission to graduate school; and
7. send official copies of all transcripts to Graduate Admissions.

Performance in classes taken as a non-degree student will not be taken into consideration in the admission process. Under certain circumstances, applicants who do not fully meet the requirements for regular admission to the program may be admitted on a provisional basis subject to conditions specified by the graduate program director for elementary/middle education.

Continuance

Students must:

1. complete the Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR) modules during the first twelve graduate credit hours at Old Dominion University. For more information review the instructions at: http://www.odu.edu/education/resources/conduct-of-research-instructions
2. maintain a grade point average of 3.00; and
3. maintain a grade point average of 3.00 in the major.

Exit

Students must:

1. have a 3.00 grade point average;
2. have a 3.00 grade point average in the major;
3. pass a written comprehensive examination;
4. have an exit interview;
5. have completed all course requirements; and
6. submit an application for graduation.

Program Requirements

Since students are expected to be dedicated to the goal of becoming master teachers, evidence that a student has reached this goal must be presented before graduation is certified. A minimum of 30 semester credits of course work is required for programs in elementary/middle school education. After admission to provisional or regular degree status, or before the completion of six credits as a non-degree student, the student must meet with the graduate program director who will assign a permanent advisor from the graduate faculty of the Darden College of Education. It is the responsibility of the student to confer with the assigned advisor for the purpose of developing a program of study. Each program has a core, support and research area that may, in some instances, be tailored to fit individual needs. Listed below is a possible program of study.

General Description of Secondary Education

Secondary programs include the Master of Science in Education degree program and three Post-baccalaureate licensure programs. Within the Master of Science in secondary education degree program there are a number of concentrations and emphasis area choices for both licensed teachers as well as those seeking initial licensure or endorsement. For those seeking initial licensure there are the following concentration areas: 6-12, library science K-12 (Note: the library science concentration may also be done through Master of Science in Education - Elementary), and Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages K-12 (TESOL). For licensed teachers seeking additional education there are the following concentration areas: 6-12 and library science K-12 (Note: the library science concentration may also be done through Master of Science in Education - Elementary). Post-baccalaureate endorsement programs are designed for individuals with a non-teaching B.S. or B. A. degree who want to obtain licensure, or for those with a teaching license who want to be licensed in an additional teaching area. The three endorsement programs offered in secondary education are 6-12, Library Science K-12, and Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages K-12 (TESOL). Please note that there are secondary programs for earning a bachelor’s degree with initial licensure in grades 6-12 described in the ODU Undergraduate Catalog.

Due to changing University requirements, national standards, and the Virginia Board of Education licensure regulations, the programs in the Darden College of Education are under constant revision. Any changes resulting from these factors supersede the program requirements described in this Catalog. Students are encouraged to obtain current program information from their advisors and from the Teacher Education Services website: http://www.odu.edu/tes.

Master of Science in Education, Secondary, Licensed Teachers

The graduate programs for licensed teachers in secondary education are designed to improve and update their professional competency in teaching at the secondary level. Licensed teachers completing the program enhance their ability to teach effectively and to participate in educational research in their schools. Completion of requirements leads to the upgrade of the teaching license to the Postgraduate Professional level. The Master of Science in Education Secondary degree for Licensed Teachers may be earned through a campus-based or field-based option. The campus-based option is a traditional ODU main campus offering. The program of study includes research and a selection of graduate courses that complement the current and/or desired professional focus of the candidate. The field-based option offers licensed teachers and other professional educators the opportunity to earn a master’s degree at one of several on-site school locations throughout the Commonwealth. Registration is restricted to licensed educators at the designated public or independent schools. Classes typically are held within the community, and research and instruction is focused on each school’s curriculum, student body, and instructional offerings. While the degree programs and requirements mirror on-campus programs, minor curricular variations may occur. The masters degree for licensed teachers with a Library Science concentration may be obtained in this program (See Library Science (School Librarianship K-12) separate listing.) Non-degree students intending to enter this graduate program must meet with the secondary education graduate program director upon completion of no more than six graduate credits.

Program: General for Licensed Teachers

The general secondary education major for licensed teachers includes interest areas in instructional design and technology, general vocational education, and library science/media. The program in school librarianship is listed in a separate section. Other programs may be individually designed as students’ needs indicate.

Admission

Students must:

1. hold a bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited college/university;
2. hold the Virginia Collegiate Professional License or an equivalent license from another state preferably in secondary education;

Department of Teaching & Learning
4. achieve a satisfactory score on the Graduate Record Examination or Miller Analogies Test;
5. have an interview with faculty in the program; and

Under certain circumstances, applicants who do not fully meet the requirements for regular admission to the program may be admitted on a provisional basis subject to conditions specified by the graduate program director for secondary education.

Continuance

Students must:

1. complete the Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR) modules during the first twelve graduate credit hours at Old Dominion University. For more information review the instructions at: http://www.odu.edu/education/resources/conduct-of-research-instructions.
2. maintain a grade point average of 3.00, and
3. maintain a grade point average of 3.00 in the major.

Program Requirements

Students enrolled in secondary and general secondary programs are expected to be dedicated to the goal of becoming master classroom teachers or librarians; therefore, evidence that a student has reached this goal must be presented before graduation is certified. A minimum of 31 semester credits is required for completion of any program planned. If a graduate student elects to add other goals to the program, such as becoming a secondary education supervisor, then the program may require an additional nine to 12 credits beyond the 31-hour minimum.

Emphasis Areas

In the secondary school - general program, emphases are offered in biology, chemistry, English, mathematics, economics, history, and social studies education. For requirements in the music education interest area, refer to the Music in the College of Arts and Letters. For library science/media refer to the separate section listed later in the department.

Area I: Core

12 to 18 credits.

Area II: Support

12 to 18 credits.

Area III: Research

6 to 12 credits. The following two courses are required:

After admission to provisional or regular degree status, each student is assigned a permanent advisor from the Darden College of Education’s graduate faculty. It is the student’s responsibility to confer with the assigned advisor. The advisor will be well acquainted with the emphasis area the student has chosen and will be responsible for helping the student develop a program of study that best meets the student’s needs. This proposed program of study becomes the student’s graduate program upon approval of the graduate program director, and can be changed only with the advice and consent of both the faculty advisor and the student. Because of the individualized nature of graduate programs in secondary education, good working relationships between faculty advisors and students are essential.

Graduate programs in the vocational secondary education major are administered by the Departments of Teaching & Learning and Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM).

- Statistics Applied to Research in Education (FOUN 722 or equivalent)

Degree Requirements

The Ph.D. program in Curriculum and Instruction is comprised of courses totaling a minimum of 60 academic credit hours beyond the master’s degree. The curriculum includes a 15 hour research/foundations block, a 15 hour “common core” taken by all PhD students regardless of concentration, a 15 hour concentration core and a 15 hour dissertation block, which includes the dissertation seminar. The dissertation will often require more than 12 credit hours depending on the length of time necessary for completion. Students entering the program may also need to complete introductory research methods statistics courses (FOUN 611, FOUN 612 or equivalent) &Statistics Applied to Research in Education (FOUN 722 or equivalent) if they have not had such courses or cannot demonstrate competency at a satisfactory level. Students who come into the Ph.D. program with a master’s degree in an academic field that is unrelated to curriculum and instruction and/or who have not completed courses to develop competency in specified areas may need to complete these courses in addition to the required courses. Students must complete the Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR) modules during the first twelve graduate credit hours at Old Dominion University. For more information review the instructions at: http://education.odu.edu/docs/ Responsible_Conduct_of_Research_Programs.pdf.

Program Continuance, Completion and Exit

It is the expectation that Curriculum and Instruction faculty will prepare Ph.D. candidates to become competent professionals with the knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to assume positions as researchers, teacher leaders, advocates, and scholars. On an annual basis, the Curriculum & Instruction Ph.D. Admissions and Continuance Committee and each student’s advisor will formally convene to discuss the continuance of each student in the doctoral degree program.

In order to complete the program, students must fully comply with the curriculum below, and all requirements noted elsewhere in the University catalog for graduate students and within the Ph.D. in Education Handbook. It is the responsibility of the student to obtain these materials and adhere to program requirements.

Due to changing University requirements, national accreditation standards, and Commonwealth licensure regulations, the programs in the Darden College of Education are under constant revision. Any changes resulting from these factors supersede the program requirements described in the catalog. Students are encouraged to obtain current program information from their advisors and the Darden College of Education website: http://education.odu.edu/.
