Graduate Certificate in Women's Studies

Women’s Studies is a multi- and interdisciplinary field of study encompassing all aspects, historical and contemporary, of women’s natures, lives, and perspectives. A Graduate Certificate in Women’s Studies can expand a student's future career opportunities within a variety of fields; it can also prepare students for exciting and innovative research in master's or doctoral programs.

For those who want to pursue only the Graduate Certificate in Women's Studies, they must hold either a B.A. or B.S. degree with an overall GPA of 2.80 OR a graduate degree.

Those admitted to a graduate program have the option of earning a Graduate Certificate in Women's Studies in conjunction with a graduate degree from another department or college. Students must satisfy all admission requirements for their chosen graduate program before completing the courses required for the Graduate Certificate in Women's Studies. Please consult the chair of the Women's Studies Department and the relevant sections of the Catalog for additional information.

The chair of Women’s Studies or a designate will serve as advisor for students pursuing the Certificate. Students pursuing the Certificate in combination with another graduate degree will have their progress monitored by both a Women’s Studies advisor as well as an advisor from their graduate program.

The Certificate will be awarded upon completion of the following program of courses.

Certificate Requirements

Students must maintain a 3.00 GPA in the 15 credit hours required for the Certificate.

WOMEN'S STUDIES Courses

WMST 500. U.S. Women's Activism. 3 Credits.
This course historicizes U.S. women’s social, political, and rhetorical activism over the last 200 years, tracing their entry into and shaping force upon public life. The course examines the development of women’s activism in the nineteenth century, the twentieth-century women’s (or feminist) movement, and its current status, particularly in relation to postfeminism and a “third” wave.

WMST 501. Women: A Global Perspective. 3 Credits.
An analysis of the global forces that impact women’s lives throughout the world. Particular emphasis is placed on the status of women in the developing world, international institutions that protect women’s rights, and efforts to promote gender equality worldwide. (This is a writing intensive course.).

WMST 502. Feminisms and Sexualities. 3 Credits.
This course will examine feminist approaches to the subject of sexuality in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. The course examines theorizations of sexuality, such as radical, critical race, and transnational feminisms, queer theory, and trans studies. Key questions will be: how have feminists theorized sexualities? What does sexuality have to do with feminist studies or practices? How do other identities, such as race and class, inform sexuality? Prerequisite: WMST 201S, WMST 390T, or instructor approval.

WMST 505. Gender and Media. 3 Credits.
This course examines media-based sites of knowledge production using a feminist approach, in order to imagine new and more complex ways to think about media rhetorics; celebrity culture; digital media; and the politics of representation. Key questions will be: What roles do media play in shaping social movements? What are the promises and pitfalls of activist interventions in the realm of commercial culture? In what ways might we complicate narratives of co-optation or selling out? The course explores these questions using an intersectional lens attentive to the complex interconnections of race, class, gender, and sexuality. Case studies will include national, international, and transnational media events. Prerequisite: WMST 201S, WMST 390T, or instructor approval.

WMST 514. Motherhood: Texts and Images. 3 Credits.
This course examines the role of the mother, the experience of mothering and the institution of motherhood through a number of disciplinary and theoretical lenses. It considers how motherhood functions to women’s advantage or disadvantage in professional and economic areas as well as the mother’s ideological construction in public discourse, imagery, non-fiction, and film.

WMST 560. Feminist Theory. 3 Credits.
A study of the renaissance in feminist theory since the 1960s through close readings of key documents and texts. The course covers a variety of feminist perspectives as expressed in both theory and practice. (This is a writing intensive course.).

WMST 570. Feminist Research Methods. 3 Credits.
This course explores the ethics, practice, and multiple forms of conducting feminist research. Narrative research methods are practiced through hands-on oral herstory assignments. Throughout the course, the process of knowledge construction is interrogated from a feminist perspective.
