Online Teaching for K-12 Teachers Certificate

Dr. Tian Luo - Certificate Program Coordinator

This certificate provides K-12 teachers with a fundamental understanding of online learning pedagogies, strategies, management, designs, and resources to better prepare them to teach in an exclusively online environment.

This certificate combines the Instructional Design & Technology, Library Science, and Teaching and Learning department faculty. Courses focus on the unique pedagogical structures of online learning environments, methods for selecting, evaluating, and integrating available instructional resources and tools for online learning and approaches to management and assessment in online learning environments.
