Linked BA/BS in Communication and MA in Lifespan and Digital Communication

The linked bachelor's/master's degree in communication/lifespan and digital communication is administered by the Communication and Theatre Arts Department. The purpose of this option is to allow exceptional majors in communication to count up to 12 hours of 500-level graduate coursework towards both the BA or BS in communication and, if accepted, the MA in lifespan and digital communication. Students in the linked program must earn a minimum of 150 credit hours (120 discrete credits for the undergraduate degree and 30 discrete credits for the graduate degree). For more information, please contact Dr. Gary Beck.

Linked BA/BS in Communication and MA in Humanities

Please refer to the Humanities section of this Catalog for information on the linked program leading to a BA or BS in communication and an MA in humanities.

BA or BS to MBA (Master of Business Administration) Linked Program

The linked BA/MBA or BS/MBA program is an early entry to the MBA program of study. The early-entry program is designed for well qualified non-business undergraduate ODU students to start their MBA program prior to completing their undergraduate degree. Well qualified non-business undergraduate students may take MBA-level courses as early as three semesters prior to graduation and count up to 12 graduate credits toward their undergraduate degree. Students participating in the early-entry program must earn a minimum of 150 credit hours (120 discrete credit hours for the undergraduate degree and 30 discrete credit hours for the graduate degree). Early-entry program students should carefully consider their undergraduate degree program requirements when planning their course of study. Students in the early-entry program work in close consultation with the MBA Program Office and should refer to information in the Strome College of Business section in the graduate catalog (<https://catalog.odu.edu/graduate/stromecollegeofbusiness/>) to develop an individualized plan of study based on the required coursework.

BA or BS to MPA (Master of Public Administration) Linked Program

The linked BA/MPA or BS/MPA program provides qualified Old Dominion University undergraduate students with the opportunity to earn a master's degree in public administration while taking credits in the MPA program as an undergraduate student. The program is designed for highly motivated students with the desire to immediately continue their education after the bachelor's degree. The program is especially relevant to individuals seeking to work (or currently working) in the public or non-profit sectors, but is suitable for students from any undergraduate major. Graduate courses may be taken during the fall and spring semester of the student's senior undergraduate year. Up to 12 graduate credits can count toward both the undergraduate and graduate degree and can meet upper-level General Education requirements. After receiving the undergraduate degree, a student will continue with the MPA program, taking MPA courses until completing the required 39 credit hours. Students in the linked program must earn a minimum of 150 credit hours (120 discrete credit hours for the undergraduate degree and 30 discrete credit hours for the graduate degree).

Requirements for admission to the graduate program can be found in the School of Public Service section of the Graduate Catalog (<https://catalog.odu.edu/graduate/business/public-service/>). For additional information, please contact the School of Public Service in the Strome College of Business.

COMM 226S Honors: Introduction to Human Communication (3 Credit Hours)

Open only to students in the Honors College. An introduction to the discipline and methods of human communication. Survey of the major approaches to studying communication across the range of human communication contexts and functions.

COMM 227A Honors: Film Appreciation (3 Credit Hours)

Open only to students in the Honors College. This class will focus on both contextual and close text analysis of masterworks as they have influenced film art and industry. Students in this course are expected to develop basic research, communication, viewing and critical thinking skills as they apply their knowledge to the analysis of the film experience.

COMM 244 Introduction to Production Design (3 Credit Hours)

An introduction to principles, methods, and materials used in designing stage and film productions.

COMM 260 Understanding Media (3 Credit Hours)

An examination of mass communication--books, newspapers, magazines, radio, TV, film, sound recordings, and the Internet--as a global institution, industry, and social force. Media literacy skills are emphasized, as are matters of technology, content, economics, history and impact.

COMM 265 Introduction to Screenwriting (3 Credit Hours)

This hands-on introductory course is designed to give students a foundation in the art and profession of screenwriting, with an emphasis on short film scripts. The course breaks down key features of screenwriting, such as: proper screenplay formatting, story structure, character development, conflict, action, and dialog. Students will apply what they learn in numerous exercises and writing assignments.

Prerequisites: ENGL 110C with a grade of C or better and ENGL 211C with a grade of C or better

COMM 269 Visual Storytelling (3 Credit Hours)

This online course will introduce students to the process of making movies. Students will learn basic conceptual and technical principles of the filmmaking process using personal equipment, such as an iPhone. The course is intended for non-cinema majors and does not satisfy the prerequisite requirement for higher-level production courses.

COMM 270A Film Appreciation (3 Credit Hours)

This class focuses on both contextual and close text analysis of masterworks as they have influenced film art and industry. Students in this course are expected to develop basic research, communication, viewing and critical thinking skills as they apply their knowledge to the analysis of the film experience.

COMM 271 Introduction to Filmmaking (3 Credit Hours)

This course will introduce the beginning student to making movies. Students will learn the basics of working with cameras, lights, sound recording, video editing and post production. This is a hands-on production course and the required prerequisite to most higher-level production courses. Students who complete COMM 271 cannot enroll in COMM 269 and have that course count toward their major.

COMM 272G Digital Literacy (3 Credit Hours)

Digital literacy refers to the unequal understanding people have about how digital technologies work, how that work is regulated, and how digital technologies are used - by us and by others - as effective and strategic communication and information tools. This course offers students a pathway to become digitally literate by teaching them how the work they perform on digital platforms impacts their interpersonal, communal, and social interactions as consumers, citizens, and content producers.

COMM 278G Advertising & Society (3 Credit Hours)

Advertising influences consumer beliefs and decision-making. This course introduces students to fundamental concepts in advertising and consumer culture while developing skills and knowledge in information and digital literacy. Topics covered include consumerism and resistance, representation in advertising, audience segmentation, and digital advertising. As they learn to critically evaluate and analyze advertising and its audiences, students will practice message evaluation and research skills. Students will also consider legal and ethical use of information in advertising.

COMM 280T Entertainment Technologies (3 Credit Hours)

This course is an introduction to the entertainment industry including working methods, processes, and equipment for live, recorded, and interactive entertainment. The exploration will include theatre, opera, dance, concert productions, theme parks, themed-retail, film production, immersive, interactive and virtual environments, and gaming technology. Attention is given to the positive and negative aspects of entertainment technologies and how they impact culture and society.

COMM 295 Topics in Communication (1-3 Credit Hours)

A study of selected topics designed for nonmajors or for elective credit within a major. These courses will appear in the course schedule and will be more fully described by academic advisors.

COMM 300 International Sojourning (3 Credit Hours)

This course is designed to prepare ODU study-abroad students for successful international sojourns. Topics to be covered include culture, culture shock, reverse culture shock and strategies for a successful study-abroad experience.

Prerequisites: junior standing or permission of instructor

COMM 301 Critical Methodologies (3 Credit Hours)

This survey course introduces students to critical methodologies utilized in the study of media texts. Through case studies and hands-on exercises, students will learn how to study the production, consumption, and engagement with popular culture and how to decode its meanings.

Prerequisites: COMM 260

COMM 302 Communication Research Methods I (3 Credit Hours)

An introduction to communication research from a social science perspective. Experiment, survey, content analysis and observational approaches are covered. Students learn statistical data collection and data analysis techniques.

Prerequisites: STAT 130M, COMM 200S and six hours of 300-400 level communication courses or permission of instructor

COMM 303 Introduction to Strategic Communications (3 Credit Hours)

A study of interactions within and among communication workplaces and the public. Attention is given to the media, promotions, community relations, and public information.

Prerequisites: COMM 308W or permission of the instructor

COMM 304 Advanced Public Speaking (3 Credit Hours)

An analysis and expression of professional speeches, delivered in public, business and special occasion contexts. Attention is given to audience analysis, library research, development of arguments/evidence as content, creation and use of professional visual aids, expression of appropriate verbal and nonverbal speech cues, speaker credibility, and extemporaneous delivery skills.

Prerequisites: COMM 101R

COMM 305 Work-Life Communication (3 Credit Hours)

This course is an examination of both the theory and practice of communication in the professional setting. Content includes communication theory, work-life communication, as well as the roles of interpersonal, organizational, and mediated communication as related to the workplace.

Prerequisites: Junior standing or permission of instructor

COMM 307 Understanding European Film (3 Credit Hours)

This course provides students with an historic overview of films from a variety of European countries. Students gain the vocabulary necessary to analyze individual films and for the comparative analysis of films from different cultural and historical contexts. The course will focus on issues such as national and individual identity, film as aesthetic form, gender and sexuality, and popular culture.

Prerequisites: Junior standing or permission of instructor

COMM 308W Effective Media Writing (3 Credit Hours)

This writing-intensive course equips students with the foundational skills for effective writing across multiple media platforms, including print, digital, and broadcast. Emphasizing clarity, accuracy, and ethical practices, students will learn to craft news stories, feature articles, and press releases while adapting their work to diverse audiences. The course also introduces the role of data in enhancing media writing, demonstrating how analytics can shape content strategy and improve audience engagement. Students will also integrate multimedia elements and explore storytelling techniques essential for professional media environments. Ultimately, this prerequisite course for the Journalism/Public Information and Strategic Communication concentrations seeks to ensure a solid writing foundation for all future media professionals.

Prerequisites: Sophomore standing

COMM 309 Media Relations (3 Credit Hours)

Companies and organizations from just about every sector have a person or in some cases entire offices tasked with media relations. This course will take an in-depth look at the evolving landscape of multimedia communications, including seismic changes in the media in general, the rise of bloggers, influencers, and other shared media models, and the increasing role that content generation plays in traditional media relations. The course will include hands-on instruction and projects in content generation, media pitching and contact lists, media interviews, press conferences, as well as non-traditional earned media practices.

Prerequisites: COMM 260 or permission of the instructor

Pre- or corequisite: COMM 303 or permission of the instructor

COMM 310 Strategic Communications Campaigns (3 Credit Hours)

This course emphasizes a multi-disciplinary and multi-media approach to problem solving. Students will prepare a strategic communication campaign on behalf of a real client. It will include the production of research, strategy, and media material for use by the client. These materials, in turn, may be used in student portfolios as examples of professional capabilities.

Prerequisites: COMM 260 or permission of the instructor

Pre- or corequisite: COMM 303 or permission of the instructor

COMM 311 Strategic Communications Tactics (3 Credit Hours)

This course provides students skills needed to enter the workforce with a robust set of domain-specific skills, which includes practicing those skills in a realistic, hands-on setting, so they feel more ready to win and succeed in jobs in the competitive, modern marketplace. This course will provide relevant skills training to strategic communication students, while fortifying these students for professional success.

Prerequisites: junior standing

Pre- or corequisite: COMM 303

COMM 314 Nonverbal Communication (3 Credit Hours)

An introduction to the theories, processes and effects of communication in nonverbal codes. Topics include kinesics, proxemics and paralanguage. Critical analysis and contemporary research emphasized.

Prerequisites: Junior standing and COMM 200S, or permission of the instructor

COMM 315W Sex, Gender, and Communication (3 Credit Hours)

An overview of communication theory and research examining gendered verbal and nonverbal communication. Topics include communication differences as a function of gender, theories that seek to explain these differences, and critical examination of social practices that create gender prescriptions. This is a writing intensive course.

Prerequisites: Junior standing, COMM 200S, and a grade of C or better in ENGL 211C or ENGL 221C or ENGL 231C, or permission of the instructor

COMM 321 Production Management for Television and Stage (3 Credit Hours)

This course assists students in understanding the elements of production management both in television and on stage. The course emphasizes organizational and communication skills; technical production knowledge; professional rehearsal and performance protocol according to the rules of AEA, AFTRA and SAG as well as basic production budgeting and scheduling.

Prerequisites: Junior standing or permission of the instructor

COMM 323 Leadership and Events Management (3 Credit Hours)

The course covers the systematic process of organizational assessment from basic communication channels (verbal, printed, and electronic modes of communication), to interpersonal and group communication, to the management of events and staff. This course examines the importance of leadership roles within organizations in planning any event as well as the communication dynamics between management and those being supervised.

Prerequisites: COMM 200S or permission of the instructor

COMM 325 Sound Design for Stage and Camera (3 Credit Hours)

This class introduces the concepts and techniques of sound design and sound effects for the stage and camera. Students learn design of sound elements in both a live and recorded environment as well as learn the current equipment and software in digital sound reproduction.

Prerequisites: Junior standing or permission of the instructor

COMM 326 Foundations of Group Communication (3 Credit Hours)

An introduction to the study of communication in task groups. Course reviews foundational literature and emphasizes communication competencies relevant to optimizing group outcomes including group observation, participation, assessment, and leadership.

Prerequisites: Junior standing and COMM 200S or permission of the instructor

COMM 330 The Short Script (3 Credit Hours)

This course builds upon the principles taught in Screenwriting 1 (or equivalent) using the short script as a basis for the exploration. Utilizing concepts of characterization, plot, dialogue and narrative style, students should complete the course with several production-ready short scripts.

Prerequisites: COMM 346 or THEA 346

COMM 333 Persuasion (3 Credit Hours)

An overview of the rhetorical and social scientific theories and research about persuasion and applications in speeches and campaigns.

Prerequisites: COMM 200S or permission of the instructor

COMM 334 Narrative Adaptation (3 Credit Hours)

This screenwriting course explores the ways teleplays, stage plays, and screenplays can be crafted using a variety of primary source materials. Through multiple screenings, writing exercises, and deep reading, it examines what constitutes an adaptable piece of prose and how that material can be transformed. Primary weight is given to the movement from novel to film.

Prerequisites: COMM 346 or THEA 346

COMM 335W Rhetorical Criticism (3 Credit Hours)

With the goal of being able to critique a communication event, students study a variety of rhetorical approaches that may include neo-Aristotelian, generic, feminist, metaphoric, fantasy theme, and pentadic approaches to rhetorical criticism. This is a writing intensive course.

Prerequisites: COMM 101R and a grade of C or better in ENGL 211C or ENGL 221C or ENGL 231C, or permission of the instructor

COMM 339 Entertainment Journalism (3 Credit Hours)

In this course, students learn how to transform casual expressions of opinion about celebrities and media into polished reviews and articles worthy of publication in newspapers, magazines, and online platforms. Students will examine models of good entertainment journalism, past and present, in print, on the Web and in podcasts. In particular, students will consider critical reviews, profiles of artists and entertainers, interviews, and trend stories.

Prerequisites: junior standing

Pre- or corequisite: COMM 260

COMM 340 Media and Popular Culture (3 Credit Hours)

This course examines the basic ways in which the mass media intersect with the currents of contemporary culture. Both historical and critical approaches to the study of mass communication and popular culture trace the full implications of their mutual determination and interdependence.

Prerequisites: COMM 260

COMM 341 Lighting Design for Stage and Film (3 Credit Hours)

This is a production course introducing students to the world of light and shadow, mood and composition by surveying lighting design, its technologies for stage and camera, and such principles as basic electrical theory and stage/studio/location design aesthetics.

Prerequisites: COMM 225/THEA 225 and COMM 271/THEA 271 or permission of instructor

COMM 342 Post-Production 1 (3 Credit Hours)

This course serves as an introduction to the art of video post-production. Students explore the theory and practice of various editing styles in order to gain a better understanding of how stories are constructed in the editing room. The course covers principles of post-production of narrative, documentary, and experimental films. Through demonstrations and hands-on experience, students learn editing techniques with an in-depth examination of tools and approaches in a non-linear editing system.

Prerequisites: COMM 271 or THEA 271 or DANC 271

COMM 344 Introduction to Media Industries (3 Credit Hours)

This course provides students with an overview of a range of media industries, exploring their histories and structures and their impact on contemporary media production. Students will track ongoing industry developments, applying course concepts and learning how media is made and how that process is restricted by a range of social, cultural, political, and economic forces.

Prerequisites: COMM 260

COMM 345 Media Audiences (3 Credit Hours)

This course is designed to introduce students to the major theories and perspectives that inform the ways media audiences are made meaningful to the creation, distribution, promotion, regulation, and evaluation of media and popular culture.

Prerequisites: COMM 260

COMM 346 Screenwriting I (3 Credit Hours)

This course is an introduction to narrative screenwriting focusing on the traditional feature film. Students will study screenwriting principles through text reading, film viewing, script analysis and substantial writing assignments. Focus is on story structure, character development, action, dialogue, and proper screenplay format.

Prerequisites: COMM 265 or THEA 265

COMM 348 Acting for the Camera (3 Credit Hours)

This course examines the process of building characters for the camera, and the ways in which the conventions of the stage are adapted for the film or video audience.

Prerequisites: THEA 152R

COMM 349 Costume Design for Stage and Camera (3 Credit Hours)

This course explores the design aesthetic, historical context, and contemporary impact on performance of the costume garment and its accessories. Students explore the application of design principles in a practical experience.

Prerequisites: THEA 244

COMM 351 Interpersonal Communication in Organizations (3 Credit Hours)

Focuses on communication theory, research, and applications of a variety of forms of communication in organizational relationships. Topics include superior-subordinate communication, interviewing, and presentations with an emphasis on a diversity of perspectives and types of organizations.

Prerequisites: Junior standing and COMM 200S or permission of the instructor

COMM 353 Animation (3 Credit Hours)

This is a project oriented, studio class that will focus on the art of animated storytelling from the traditional perspective of stop motion animation combined with digital post production. Students will engage in individual research, writing, storyboarding, editing, and sound creation to produce original short animations. Crosslisted with THEA 353.

Prerequisites: COMM 271, DANC 271, or THEA 271

COMM 354 Drafting and Rendering for Stage and Screen (3 Credit Hours)

This course is an intermediate level course designed to introduce the student to the fundamentals of graphic skills necessary for the implementation of a scenic design on either the stage or in front of a lens. Techniques and skills will be demonstrated in drafting (hand and computer generated) and perspective sketching and rendering. Crosslisted with THEA 354.

Prerequisites: THEA 225/COMM 225

COMM 355 Organizational Communication (3 Credit Hours)

Focuses on critical analysis of theory and research organizations as functional communication systems at the individual, dyadic, small group, and organizational levels. Topics include information processing, problem solving, impression management, compliance gaining, and network analysis.

Prerequisites: COMM 200S or permission of instructor

COMM 356 3D Animation 1 (3 Credit Hours)

This is a project-oriented studio class that will focus on the art of animated storytelling through the use of computer-based 3D animation.

Prerequisites: COMM 271 or THEA 271 or DANC 271

COMM 357 3D Animation 2 (3 Credit Hours)

This is a project-oriented studio class that will focus on the art of animated storytelling from the perspective of computer-based 3D animation, building on the skills developed in 3D Animation 1. Students will engage in individual research, writing, storyboarding, editing, and sound creation to produce original short animations.

Prerequisites: COMM 356 or THEA 356

COMM 358 Color for Digital Cinema & TV (3 Credit Hours)

This course will introduce students to color workflow in the digital cinema environment. The focus will be on working with color beginning with the camera, through color correction to delivery, mixing software-specific techniques with a deepening understanding of the underlying theories of color theory and practice. Students will learn and apply industry standard best practices in the field of visual post-production. This is a hands-on workshop style post-production course.

Prerequisites: COMM 271 or DANC 271 or THEA 271

COMM 359 Costume Crafts (3 Credit Hours)

This course will develop design principles and craft techniques to create a wide variety of costume crafts. The course will focus on individual research, design elements and technical challenges. Projects will encourage students to explore textile modification, various applications for clothing design, costume crafts and art materials. Cross-listed with THEA 355.

Prerequisites: Junior standing or permission of the instructor

COMM 361 Editing Aesthetics (3 Credit Hours)

This course is designed to provide students with an in-depth knowledge of the theory of film editing and concepts in film editing such as pacing, rhythm, juxtaposition, and color. The course will encourage students to investigate and understand the effectiveness of various editing techniques deployed by film editors.

Prerequisites: COMM 270A/THEA 270A or COMM 271/THEA 271

COMM 363 Introduction to Journalism (3 Credit Hours)

This class focuses on media literacy and on the role of media in society. Students learn and practice elements of news writing, including writing leads, organizing stories, reporting techniques, and interviewing. Story assignments come from handouts, press releases, press conferences, speeches, and public meetings. Some assignments are completed under simulated deadline pressure in the computer lab. This course is identical to the course previously named Reporting and News Writing I and satisfies that requirement.

Prerequisites: COMM 308W or permission of instructor

COMM 367 Cooperative Education (1-3 Credit Hours)

Available for pass/fail grading only. Student participation for credit based on the academic relevance of the work experience, criteria, and evaluative procedures as formally determined by the department prior to the semester in which the work experience takes place. May be repeated for credit.

Prerequisites: Approval by department is required; Additional support may be provided by the Monarch Internship and Co-Op Office in the semester prior to enrollment

COMM 368 Internship (3-6 Credit Hours)

A structured work experience with or without remuneration, in an appropriately related disciplinary field. An ePortfolio, 150 hours of site work, plus satisfactory evaluations by supervisor and cooperating faculty member are required. Available for pass/fail grading only. Available to Communication, Theatre, and Dance majors and minors only. Cross-listed with DANC 368 and THEA 368.

Prerequisites: Approval of departmental internship director prior to registration

COMM 369 Research Practicum (3 Credit Hours)

A structured research experience, under the supervision of communication faculty member. A paper evaluating/analyzing the research, a log of research progress, and satisfactory evaluation by the supervising faculty are required.

Prerequisites: Completion of core courses and 6 hours of upper-level major courses; approval of supervising faculty and department chair prior to registration

COMM 372T Introduction to New Media Technologies (3 Credit Hours)

Introduction to new media practices and theories. Focuses upon the powers of composition, networked communities, information management, social networking and identification in digital environments. Students will examine practical applications such as blogging, online mapping and tagging, online collaborative work such as wikis and self composition in online social networks.

Prerequisites: Junior standing or permission of the instructor

This course explores the basic process of producing television from script to presentation.

Prerequisites: COMM 271 or THEA 271 or permission of the instructor

COMM 380 Documentary Production I (3 Credit Hours)

This course offers the student an opportunity to explore the world of documentary filmmaking. Students will perform research to develop evidence in support of a thesis, then utilize the camera to capture a narrative story based on the thesis. Through this process, the student is better able to understand documentary filmmaking. Students will develop and deliver short documentary films by the end of the semester.

Prerequisites: THEA 271 or COMM 271 or DANC 271 with grade of C or higher

COMM 382 Reporting News for Television and Digital Media (3 Credit Hours)

This course focuses on writing for television news and producing online news reports. Students will strengthen their journalistic skills and learn the importance of writing clearly for a viewing audience while working under newsroom deadlines. By the end of the course, students should feel confident in producing accurate, detailed reports for television news and online news sites.

Prerequisites: ENGL 110C and ENGL 211C

COMM 383 Directing the Actor (3 Credit Hours)

This course is designed as a practical guide for directors to elicit strong performances from the actors who tell their stories. The class will establish vocabulary and practice techniques that are equally applicable to work in film or theatre. Ideally, the course will encourage students to think beyond genre as they create work that is both dramatically and humanly compelling.

Prerequisites: COMM 271 or THEA 271 or DANC 271 or THEA 152R

COMM 385 Cinematography (3 Credit Hours)

Introduces students to cinematography. The course explores camera technique, blocking actors, lighting, and cinematography fundamentals. The concepts of the course are applied to fiction and nonfiction cinema. This is a production class.

Prerequisites: THEA 271 or COMM 271 or DANC 271 with grade of C or higher

COMM 386 Post-Production 2 (3 Credit Hours)
