The Bachelor of Arts in English requires a minimum of 39 hours in English, in addition to English courses taken to satisfy General Education requirements: ENGL 110C, ENGL 211C or ENGL 231C, and ENGL 112L or ENGL 114L.

Upon completion of ENGL 110C, intended majors should apply to the chief departmental advisor for English to declare the major. Once admitted to the program, students take four courses in the core, two literature electives, one open English elective, and six courses in the major. The major is one of six areas of study (applied language studies, creative writing, journalism, literature, technical writing, secondary English education) within the overall Bachelor of Arts program and allows the student to pursue that area in depth. Because requirements sometimes change, students should consult the latest course requirement lists available in the department office. All majors must take an English writing-intensive (W) course and maintain a grade point average of 2.0 in the major to graduate (2.75 in the secondary English education major).

The department offers graduate degrees in applied linguistics, creative writing, and English. Please refer to the Graduate Catalog for more information.

Linked Bachelor of Arts in English/Master of Arts in Applied Linguistics

The linked BA in English, applied language studies, and MA in applied linguistics makes it possible for exceptional students to count up to 12 hours of graduate courses toward both an undergraduate and graduate degree. Students must earn a minimum of 150 credit hours (120 for the undergraduate degree and 30 for the graduate degree).

Admission Requirements

To be admitted to the program, students must have completed at least 60 undergraduate hours, including at least nine hours in English applied language studies courses at the 300 level or above. At the time of admission, they must have an overall GPA of 3.00 or better, and a GPA of 3.30 or better in all English applied language studies courses.

Admission Procedures

Interested students who meet the admission requirements should apply to the graduate program director as soon as possible after completing the required 60 undergraduate hours. In consultation with the graduate program director, students will:

1. Officially declare themselves an undergraduate English major with an emphasis in applied language studies to the English Department's undergraduate chief departmental advisor.

2. Draft a schedule of graduate courses to be taken as an undergraduate, which will be placed in the student's undergraduate and graduate advising files.

3. Apply to the Office of Graduate Admissions for admission to the MA in applied linguistics program during their senior year.

Students will be admitted to the linked program for the semester after they make their application. Once students have been awarded their B.A. degrees and have fulfilled all regular admission requirements for the MA in applied linguistics, they will be officially admitted into the MA program.

Program Requirements

Students in the program will fulfill all normal admission and curricular requirements for both a BA in English with an applied language studies concentration and an MA in applied linguistics, with the following exceptions:

1. Students in the program may count up to 12 hours of graduate courses taken as an undergraduate for which they have earned a grade of B (3.0) or better toward both the BA in English and MA in applied linguistics degrees.

2. Students in the program may substitute English linguistics graduate courses for undergraduate courses according to the following schema. All students must complete an undergraduate writing intensive course in the major.

   a. Any 500-level linguistics course that is cross listed with a 400-level course may be substituted for the 400-level course.

   b. Students may substitute 600-level courses for undergraduate courses according to the following list:

The Requirements for admission to the graduate program can be found in the College of Business section in the graduate catalog (http://catalog.odu.edu/graduate/business/public-service/). For additional information, please contact the School of Public Service in the Strome College of Business.

c. Students in the program may make a written petition for other substitutions to the graduate program director (GPD) for electives in fields such as Asian studies, education, or professional writing. The GPD will consider substitutions in consultation with the chief departmental advisor and the instructor(s) of the courses involved. Students should consult the Graduate Catalog for requirements for the MA in Applied Linguistics.

BA or BS to MBA (Master of Business Administration) Linked Program

The linked BA/MBA or BS/MBA program is an early entry to the MBA program of study. The early-entry program is designed for well qualified non-business undergraduate ODU students to start their MBA program prior to completing their undergraduate degree. Well qualified non-business undergraduate students may take MBA-level courses as early as three semesters prior to graduation and count up to 12 graduate credits toward their undergraduate degree. Students participating in the early-entry program must earn a minimum of 150 credit hours (120 discrete credit hours for the undergraduate degree and 30 discrete credit hours for the graduate degree). Early-entry program students should carefully consider their undergraduate degree program requirements when planning their course of study. Students in the early-entry program work in close consultation with the MBA Program Office and should refer to information in the Strome College of Business section of the graduate catalog (http://catalog.odu.edu/graduate/stromecollegeofbusiness/) to develop an individualized plan of study based on the required coursework.

BA or BS to MPA (Master of Public Administration) Linked Program

The linked BA/MPA or BS/MPA program provides qualified Old Dominion University undergraduate students with the opportunity to earn a master's degree in public administration while taking credits in the MPA program as an undergraduate student. The program is designed for highly motivated students with the desire to immediately continue their education after the bachelor's degree. The program is especially relevant to individuals seeking to work (or currently working) in the public or non-profit sectors, but is suitable for students from any undergraduate major. Graduate courses may be taken during the fall and spring semester of the student's senior undergraduate year. Up to 12 graduate credits can count toward both the undergraduate and graduate degree and can meet upper-level General Education requirements. After receiving the undergraduate degree, a student will continue with the MPA program, taking MPA courses until completing the required 39 credit hours. Students in the linked program must earn a minimum of 150 credit hours (120 discrete credit hours for the undergraduate degree and 30 discrete credit hours for the graduate degree).

Requirements for admission to the graduate program can be found in the School of Public Service section of the Graduate Catalog (http://catalog.odu.edu/graduate/business/public-service/). For additional information, please contact the School of Public Service in the Strome College of Business.

Courses

English (ENGL)

ENGL 101 Composition Studio (3 Credit Hours)

This course is an immersive study of writing, rhetoric, and composing concepts and strategies designed to extend the ENGL 110C curriculum. The course provides additional instruction, guided practice, and support as writers learn to successfully compose and revise in multiple genres for multiple purposes and audiences and navigate university literacy expectations.

Prerequisites: A score of 1 on the WSPT or an override from an academic advisor

Corequisites: ENGL 110C

ENGL 110C English Composition (3 Credit Hours)

The principal objective of the course is to prepare students to be effective writers of the kinds of compositions they will be called on to produce during their college careers. By the end of the course, students should be more mature in their understanding and use of language, should develop efficient writing processes, and should know and demonstrate the qualities of effective composition in a given rhetorical situation.

Prerequisites: A passing grade on the Writing Success Placement Tool (WSPT)

ENGL 112L Introduction to Literature (3 Credit Hours)

This course introduces students to a broad range of literary forms, including poetry, fiction and drama, exposing students to a diverse range of writers across race, gender, sexuality, nationality, and time periods. As students engage with the readings, they will develop skills in literary interpretation, analysis and critical evaluation.

ENGL 114L American Writers, American Experiences (3 Credit Hours)

This course introduces students to the diversity of American culture as depicted in American literature. Readings expose students to a diverse range of writers across race, gender, sexuality, and time periods. As students engage with the readings, they will develop skills in literary interpretation, analysis and critical evaluation.

ENGL 126C Honors: English Composition (3 Credit Hours)

Open only to students in the Honors College. A special honors section of ENGL 110C.

Prerequisites: A passing score on the Writing Success Placement Tool (WSPT)

Prerequisites: Approval of the department and Career Development Services

ENGL 368 English Internship (1-3 Credit Hours)
A structured work experience involving skills cultivated and practiced in English classroom spaces. Reflective materials connecting educational and professional experiences are required, as well as satisfactory evaluations from the workplace supervisor.
Prerequisites: Sophomore status with a passing grade in at least one 300- or 400-level English course and approval by the Director of Student Internships prior to registration

ENGL 369 Research Practicum (3 Credit Hours)
This course enables students to combine traditional research and scholarship with real world applications. Can be repeated for credit.
Prerequisites: ENGL 327W or ENGL 335, plus 15 hours in the major (with sufficient coursework in an involved emphasis) and approval by faculty practicum advisor

ENGL 370 English Linguistics (3 Credit Hours)
A survey of topics in English linguistics. Topics include the sound system, the structure of words, the ways in which words and phrases form meaningful utterances, the structure of conversations, differences between spoken and written English, language acquisition by children, language variation, and language in its social context.
Prerequisites: 6-hour general education composition requirement or permission of instructor

ENGL 371W Language and Culture (3 Credit Hours)
An interdisciplinary examination of intercultural communication through film and readings in anthropology, linguistics, and world literature, this course will compare the values, beliefs, social structures and conventions of a number of cultures to those of the U.S. This course is part of the World Cultures interdisciplinary minor. This is a writing intensive course.
Prerequisites: 6-hour general education composition requirement or permission of instructor

ENGL 380 Reporting and News Writing I (3 Credit Hours)
This class focuses on media literacy and on the role of media in society. Students learn and practice elements of news writing, including writing leads, organizing stories, reporting techniques, and interviewing. Story assignments come from handouts, press releases, press conferences, speeches, and public meetings. Some assignments are completed under simulated deadline pressure in the computer lab.
Prerequisites: Six semester hours in English

ENGL 381 Public Relations (3 Credit Hours)
This course is designed to introduce the student to certain disciplines related to the public relations process. The emphasis is equally distributed between the handling of written materials and the dynamics of group relations, i.e., the publicist and the person or persons whom he or she is representing. The focus is distinguished from advertising by virtue of its emphasis upon public service, particularly the continued need for the free flow of information in the democratic process.
Prerequisites: Six semester hours in English
ENGL 382 Reporting News for Television and Digital Media (3 Credit Hours)
This course focuses on writing for television news and producing online news reports. Students strengthen their journalistic skills and learn the importance of writing clearly for a viewing audience while working under newsroom deadlines. By the end of the course, students should feel confident in producing accurate, detailed reports for both television news and online news sites.
Prerequisites: A grade of C or better in ENGL 110C and ENGL 211C

ENGL 383 Digital Journalism (3 Credit Hours)
Students will create a WordPress site and are expected to produce news stories on this site from events on campus and in the community. These news stories may include the use of audio, short video, hyperlinks, infographics, digital maps, and photo galleries. This is a hands-on practical course that will include news reporting and writing for on-line platforms, podcasts, blogs, video, and social media. Students will create a Twitter account and will be expected to Tweet from news events that they will cover. Additionally, in a group project, students will either produce a podcast or a video news story. By the end of the course, students will have a marketable digital portfolio.
Prerequisites: Grade of C or better in ENGL 110C and either ENGL 211C, ENGL 221C or ENGL 231C

ENGL 384 Business and Science Journalism (3 Credit Hours)
This course is a combination of lecture and hands-on news reporting/analysis. The focus of this course is to familiarize students with the techniques of the traditional and 'new media' journalist engaged in addressing critical societal problems. Additionally, this course will emphasize techniques of journalistic research to create reporting that is thorough, fair, and well-supported.
Prerequisites: A grade of C or better in ENGL 110C and ENGL 211C or ENGL 221C or ENGL 231C

ENGL 385 The Press and Making of American Democracy (3 Credit Hours)
In this course, students will study the role journalism and a free press have played in American history from the Colonial period to the current digital age. Most significantly, students will understand the relationship between a free press and the development of American democracy. The way the press has framed the debate on political, cultural, economic and social issues over the course of U.S. history will be examined. Also examined will be how the changing practice of journalism – from print, to radio, television and today's social media – has impacted the relationship between the media, the government, and the citizen.
Prerequisites: A grade of C or better in ENGL 110C and ENGL 211C or ENGL 221C or ENGL 231C

ENGL 387 TV News Production (3 Credit Hours)
This course is designed to provide students with an introduction to the reporting, writing, and production aspects of a television news program. Students will learn how to create 15- and 30-minute news broadcasts by developing story ideas and news gathering. Students will also learn the intricacies of shooting and editing video along with the production process involved in recording a live news broadcast. Each student will spend time both in front of and behind the television studio cameras. The goal of this course is to produce weekly news programs worthy of broadcast on local television. Students will assume the roles of reporter, writer, producer, floor director, photojournalist, videographer, technician, and more. (Cross listed with COMM 387/THEA 387)
Prerequisites: COMM 271 or THEA 271 or DAN 271
Pre-or corequisite: COMM 382 or ENGL 382

ENGL 390 TESL, Methods, Materials, & Assessment (3 Credit Hours)
This course is designed to provide students with the background and tools necessary for teaching English as a Second Language (ESL) at the K-12 or post-secondary level. The course covers the major theories of language learning, focusing primarily on current methods for language learning and teaching along with practical applications of teaching methods through a focus on designing activities and lesson plans, developing assessment tools, and teaching with technology.
Prerequisites: 6-hour general education composition requirement or permission of instructor

ENGL 395 Topics in English (1-3 Credit Hours)
A study of selected topics designed for nonmajors or for elective credit within a major. These courses will appear in the course schedule and will be more fully described in information distributed to academic advisors.
Prerequisites: Grade of C or better in ENGL 110C and either ENGL 211C, ENGL 221C, or ENGL 231C

ENGL 396 Topics in English (1-3 Credit Hours)
A study of selected topics designed for nonmajors or for elective credit within a major. These courses will appear in the course schedule and will be more fully described in information distributed to academic advisors.

ENGL 406/506 The Teaching of Literature (3 Credit Hours)
This course is designed to provide an intensive examination of issues, approaches, and methods utilized in the teaching of literature, particularly literature written for children and young adults.
Prerequisites: One 300-level literature course or permission of the instructor

ENGL 407/507 Chaucer's Canterbury Tales (3 Credit Hours)
A study of The Canterbury Tales with an introduction to Middle English language and culture.
Prerequisites: One 300-level English course or permission of instructor and a grade of C or better in one of the following: ENGL 211C, ENGL 221C, or ENGL 231C

ENGL 416/516 English Renaissance Drama (3 Credit Hours)
An extensive survey of the secular national dramas of Renaissance England that were written and performed by Shakespeare's contemporaries in London between 1576 and 1642. Students study the literary features, social contexts and ideological underpinning of representative works by Kyd, Marlowe, Jonson, Webster, Ford, and others.
Prerequisites: One 300-level English course or permission of instructor and a grade of C or better in one of the following: ENGL 211C, ENGL 221C, or ENGL 231C

ENGL 418W/518 Jewish Writers (3 Credit Hours)
This course introduces students to the Jewish literary traditions and the cultural trends shaping these traditions and the Jewish identity. It will examine the impact of such issues as immigration, family, marginality, the Holocaust, assimilation, cultural diversity, feminism, Israel, race and religion. Readings will include short stories, poems, essays, novels, and autobiographical writing. This is a writing intensive course.
Prerequisites: One 300-level English course or permission of instructor and a grade of C or better in ENGL 110C and a grade of C or better in one of the following: ENGL 211C, ENGL 221C, or ENGL 231C

ENGL 419/519 The Harlem Renaissance (3 Credit Hours)
The class provides students with a solid grasp of the Harlem Renaissance: what it was, why it came to be, and how it continues to resonate in American culture. Students will gain a greater understanding of this period and the ways in which the artistic endeavors of the Harlem Renaissance—especially the literature—helped to transform that era and make possible the growing respect for diversity that we now enjoy.
