Additional Requirements and Information

Advanced Placement

Since the study of philosophy and religion involves intensive work with sophisticated texts and extensive analytical and critical writing, credit by examination is not usually appropriate. Students who believe that there are reasons why they should be considered for exceptions to this policy should present their cases in writing to the chair of the department, who, when appropriate, will refer them to the departmental committee.
Generally, such things as “reading on one’s own” are not considered an adequate basis for such a petition. Students who have earned credit for one of the introductory philosophy and ethics way of knowing courses (e.g., PHIL 110P, PHIL 120P, PHIL 126P, PHIL 150P, REL 150P, PHIL 155E, REL 155E, PHIL 227E, PHIL 228E, PHIL 230E, PHIL 235E, REL 235E, or PHIL 250E) may not receive credit by examination for another of them.

Double Majoring in Philosophy and Political Science

The departments of Political Science and Geography and Philosophy and Religious Studies have established an arrangement that makes it possible to complete a double major in as few as 56 hours, only 9 credits more than the 48 hours needed for a major in Political Science and minor in Philosophy. Any four of the 51 required to major in Political Science and minor in Philosophy will be allowed to count any two of the following Philosophy courses as Political Science electives:

- PHIL 365: Race & Power
- PHIL 410: Social and Political Philosophy
- PHIL 411: Post-Modernism and Post-Structuralism
- PHIL 412: Philosophy of Law
- PHIL 430: Marx and Hegel

These courses will not count toward the requirement to take a specific number of hours in the American politics/public law and international relations/comparative politics areas. Philosophy “topics” courses and PHIL 442E may also be counted as Political Science electives when the topic covered is appropriate; prior approval is required from the chief departmental advisor of Political Science and Geography.

Philosophy majors double majoring in philosophy and political science may count any two of the following Political Science courses toward their philosophy major:

- POLS 309: Race, Culture and Public Policy
- POLS 310: Political Theory
- POLS 312: American Political Thought
- POLS 403: First Amendment Freedoms
- POLS 408: American Constitutional Law: Individual Rights
- POLS 419: Jurisprudence: History of Legal Theory

These courses will count as Political-Legal electives; students will still be required to take 6 hours of Political-Legal core courses. Students doing the linked BA/MA in Philosophy and Humanities can count only one 500-level Political Science course as a “bridge” course. Certain Political Science “topics” courses may be counted as Philosophy electives with prior approval from the Philosophy and Religious Studies Department.

Students interested in double majoring in philosophy and a subject other than political science should consult the chief departmental advisor for Philosophy and Religious Studies; there may be some opportunity for double counting at least one class.

Double Majoring in Philosophy and Women's Studies

The Departments of Women's Studies and Philosophy and Religious Studies have established an arrangement that makes it possible to complete a double major in as few as 57 hours, only 9 credits more than the 48 hours needed for a major in Women's Studies and minor in Philosophy. Any four of the following courses, totaling no more than 12 credit hours, may count toward a major in Women's Studies and minor in Philosophy. Any four of the following Political Science courses toward their philosophy major:

- PHIL 365: Race & Power
- PHIL 402: Gender and Philosophy
- REL 403: Gender and Sexuality in Islam

With prior approval other courses from PHIL, REL, or WMST, such as topics courses, may be counted toward both majors.

Degree Program Guide

The Degree Program Guide is a suggested curriculum to complete this degree program in four years. It is just one of several plans that will work and is presented only as broad guidance to students. Each student is strongly encouraged to develop a customized plan in consultation with their academic advisor. Additional information can also be found in Degree Works.

BA or BS to MBA (Master of Business Administration) Linked Program

The linked BA/MBA or BS/MBA program provides qualified Old Dominion University undergraduate students with the opportunity to earn a master’s degree in business administration while taking credits in the MBA program as an undergraduate student. The program is designed for highly motivated students with the desire to immediately continue their education after the bachelor’s degree. The program is especially relevant to individuals seeking to work (or currently working) in the public or non-profit sectors, but is suitable for students from any undergraduate major. Graduate courses may be taken during the fall and spring semester of the student’s senior undergraduate year. Up to 12 graduate credits can count toward both the undergraduate and graduate degree and can meet upper-level General Education requirements. After receiving the undergraduate degree, a student will continue with the MBA program, taking MBA courses until completing the required 39 credit hours. Students in the linked program must earn a minimum of 150 credit hours (120 discrete credit hours for the undergraduate degree and 30 discrete credit hours for the graduate degree).

Requirements for admission to the graduate program can be found in the School of Public Service section of the Graduate Catalog (http://catalog.odu.edu/graduate/business/public-service/). For additional information, please contact the School of Public Service in the Strome College of Business.

BA or BS to MPA (Master of Public Administration) Linked Program

The linked BA/MPA or BS/MPA program provides qualified Old Dominion University undergraduate students with the opportunity to earn a master’s degree in public administration while taking credits in the MPA program as an undergraduate student.
